

BIO – Kostas Georgoudis

There's something special about Kostas Georgoudis, refreshing, alive, intuitive and focused. In a world of copycats and imposters—without doubt, Kostas has emerged into the limelight as one of the top stand out acts amongst the rubbish.

As a producer, DJ, remixer and artist all-in-one, he has been coming into his own with interpreting ideas, breathing into them with life and soul – placing pieces of himself into patterns he calls “sounds.” The output is a distinctly original style showcasing a natural flair with creating original material and remixes with warmth, vibe and substance.

Just as equally important as originality is to Kostas' - humility, style, confidence and trusting instincts are shining the guiding light on the path. Kostas understands in order to accomplish “success” in this role—means at times he must play the part of “life of the party” as much as when to be “the artist” drawing within, exploring deeper places to bring to the dance floor . . .

Taken by the electronic music revolution in 2001, in his hometown of Samos, Greece, Kostas was frequenting clubs and fell in love with the music he was experiencing. He began collecting vinyl and found himself putting the records on turntables, mixing them together and landing a residency in a local club.

As things evolved, Kostas and a very close friend named Alex Dimou got together one day and discovered a mutual appreciation for the mélange of music with a shared eclectic vision. Their ideas blended and aligned perfectly – molding into something reminiscent of Get Physical's power-duo, M.A.N.D.Y. The tracks and remixes were quickly snapped by the likes of underground leading imprints like Quantized music, Doppelgaenger, Elite Records, Voltaire Music and City Life.

Since then Kostas has been refining and molding his own sounds and sets, clearly marking his growth from aspiring artist into an esteemed member of the underground's elite.

Music, according to Kostas is the strongest connecting points between human beings – within it, they find themselves, commonality in each other, passion, love and joy . . . in that vein, Kostas Georgoudis is rightly positioned to stamp the globe as one of the freshest new all-around talents in the underground scene . . . copycats and repeats to follow. - j. hill, the writing studio NY ©2013
